[REDACTED] Inmate

Re: Publication Appeal

[REDACTED]
I am in receipt of the second correspondence you submitted concerning the mail seizure form for the publication, "Under Lock and Key Fall 2019, No. 69".

As the supervisor designated to oversee inmate mail, I am authorized to review your appeal. I have determined that the initial decision for the book was proper and in accordance with the Sheriff's policies.

This publication speaks of joining forces with a revolutionary communist group. Although they are not at the point where violence is necessary, they are educating in order to achieve communism through the struggle, where violence may be required as necessary to overtake the government entities.

This publication advocates rebellion through in the anti-imperialism movement. The anti-imperialist movements want to secede from a larger polity. This is taken straight from the website, "Under Lock & Key (ULK) is the voice of the anti-imperialist movement within prisons in the United States." The movement wants to fight 'injustice' and 'oppression' from behind bars and to be prepared for larger battles. The publication actively seeks recruits for the movement and states they provide revolutionary materials.

The publication will be placed in your property box.

Sincerely,
Cpl. K. Peelish
